1. Particulars of the New Continuing Connected Transactions

Property Lease Framework Agreement (II)

Description of the Transaction

In the ordinary and usual course of business, the Company entered into the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II) with BEH on 5 September 2024, pursuant to which the Company has agreed to lease properties to BEH and/or its associates. The Property Lease Framework Agreement (II) shall become effective upon being signed by the legal representative(s) or authorized representative(s) of the Company and BEH (i.e., 5 September 2024) and will expire on 31 December 2025.

Pricing Policy

Under the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II), the rent shall be agreed following arm’s length negotiations between the relevant parties with reference to the prevailing market rates. Market rates refer to the rates at which the same or similar type of products or services are provided by Independent Third Parties under normal commercial terms. Specifically, in considering the rent, the parties will refer to publicly available rental prices for offices and shops in the vicinity of relevant properties of the Group which are available for lease. It is currently expected that the Group will have vacant properties available for lease in Chaoyang, Haidian and Changping districts of Beijing. The current public rental price ranges for offices and shops are RMB4.5 - 17.0 per square meter per day in Chaoyang District, Beijing, RMB6.0 - 10.0 per square meter per day in Haidian District, Beijing and RMB3.0 - 5.0 per square meter per day in Changping District, Beijing.

When determining the pricing standard, to the extent practicable, management of the Company will take into account the rates of at least two similar and comparable transactions entered with or carried out by Independent Third Parties in the corresponding period of reference.

Historical Amounts, Annual Caps and Basis of Annual Caps

There is no historical transaction amount of the transactions contemplated under the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II).

The Company estimates that the proposed annual caps for the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II) for each of the two years ending 31 December 2025 is RMB40.0 million.

In determining the above annual caps, the Company has considered:

- rental areas of the Company's vacant properties available for lease;
- the proposed usage of the leased properties as production, operations and offices premises;
- the current market prices for leased premises under similar leases;
- the trend of increase in the rental prices of properties in the vicinity of relevant properties; and
- the recent development of the property market.

Reasons for and Benefits of the Transaction

By entering into the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II), the Group could make full use of its vacant properties, optimize assets allocation and generate additional income. Some of the vacant properties owned by the Group were originally used for production and operations in the energy industry and the decoration and facilities settings have certain characteristics of the energy industry. Due to the business relevance, these vacant properties could meet the needs of BEH and its associates.

Description of the Transaction

In the ordinary and usual course of business, the Company entered into the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement with BEH on 5 September 2024, pursuant to which, the Group has agreed to provide and BEH and/or its associates has/have agreed to purchase various energy (including cooling, heat, electricity and water) from the Group. The Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement shall become effective upon being signed by the legal representative(s) or authorized representative(s) of the Company and BEH (i.e., 5 September 2024) and will expire on 31 December 2025.

Pricing Policy

Under the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement, the price is agreed following arm's length negotiations between the relevant parties with reference to government guided price, among which, the price of heating supply is determined and adjusted by the local development and reform commission on an annual basis; and the prices of water and electricity supply are determined and adjusted by local municipal commission of urban management and local electricity industry authorities from time to time and with respect to the price of cooling supply, with reference to the market price. Market price of the cooling supply refers to the average price of cooling supply transactions between the Group and Independent Third Parties over the past three years.

Historical Amounts, Annual Caps and Basis of Annual Caps

There is no historical transaction amount of the transactions contemplated under the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement.

The Company estimates that the proposed annual caps for the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement for each of the two years ending 31 December 2025 is RMB35.0 million and RMB65.0 million, respectively.

In determining the above annual caps, the Company has considered:

- the current prescribed unit price of the heat energy determined by the local development and reform commission;
- the water and electricity prices determined by the local municipal commission of urban management and local electricity industry authorities;
- the average market price of cooling supply; and

- the estimated scale of use of cooling, heat, electricity and water supply.

Reasons for and Benefits of the Transaction

The provision of various energy under the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement, to some extent, is ancillary to the lease of vacant properties to BEH and/or its associates under the Property Lease Framework Agreement (II). The Group provides with the appropriate minimum basic energy for the vacant properties, as part of the necessary maintenance of the properties. The lease of the vacant properties will result in a greater demand for various energy and by entering into the Integrated Energy Supply Framework Agreement, the Group could generate additional income.

2. Listing Rules Implications

As BEH directly and indirectly holds approximately 68.68% of the issued share capital of the Company as at the date of this announcement, it is a controlling shareholder of the Company and thus a connected person of the Company. Considering the current business operation needs of the Company for property management services and administration services, the Company expects that the existing annual caps under the Framework Service Agreement will not be sufficient. On 5 September 2024, the Company entered into the Supplemental Framework Service Agreement with BEH to revise the existing annual caps. As of the date of the Supplemental Framework Service Agreement, the property management services and administration services provided by BEH and/or its associates under the Framework Service Agreement have not exceeded the original cap for the year of 2024.

The Supplemental Framework Service Agreement shall become effective upon being signed by the legal representative(s) or authorized representative(s) of BEH and the Company (i.e., 5 September 2024), and will expire on 31 December 2025.

Save for the above amendments, all other terms and conditions of the Framework Service Agreement remain unchanged. For the principle terms and details of the Framework Service Agreement, please refer to the announcement of the Company dated 8 November 2022.
